New! Solar photovoltaic funding has been increased by $300 million for technologies that are currently part of the Self-Generation Incentive Program. This should assure program continuity through 2006. The CPUC intends to adopt the "California Solar Initiative," which will provide incentives for installing solar energy technologies (proceeding R.04-03-017). For more information, click here.

New! The Commission is holding expos throughout the state to connect small business owners with California's utility companies. This is a great way for small business owners to meet with utility representatives to discuss business opportunities. The first Expo, led by Commissioner John Bohn, will be in Oakland on Jan. 19, 2006. For more information, click here.

Reminder! Conserve natural gas and electricity use. Natural gas costs have been very high, which will increase consumers' costs to use gas and electricity (many electric generators are fueled by natural gas, that's one reason why electricity costs are increasing). To learn more about the increases, and ways you can conserve or benefit from a utility program, click here.

New! The Commission continues to ensure reliable and cost-effective electricity supply. To refine our resource adequacy requirements (RAR) program, the CPUC will consider specific elements such as local RAR, and the requirements and implementation of Assembly Bill 380 (proceeding R.05-12-013). Update! Community Choice Aggregation (CCA) - the CPUC has resolved implementation issues and complies with Assembly Bill 117, enabling cities and counties to form CCAs (proceeding R.03-10-003). For more information, click here.
